

News and Happenings

April/May 2015

In this issue: 3D Modeling | Storage and Organization | Wireless Tunes

On the Drawing Board

Here are renderings of three of our in-progress projects. Our architects and designers use Chief Architect to create floorplans for complex projects. The program allows them to translate a plan into a 3D model that helps clients visualize their addition--inside and out! Above is a Takoma Park rear addition with a breezeway to a screened in porch. This design works around the existing tree on the property. Another addition (below left) in Silver Spring has a new kitchen and family room. The light-filled D.C. kitchen (below right) has a peninsula that is open to the family room.

Keep up with trends and project ideas by connecting with us on

Video Stars

Ethan and Chris Landis, brothers and principals of the company, explain the benefits of working with Landis in this new video, which was shot at an attic project under construction in the Palisades neighborhood. They explain how our architect/build model and in-house skilled craftsman can bring any project to life. (The client's dog makes a cameo appearance). Visit our website and click on the Why Landis tab for the video.

(Click the Buzz tab for Landis TV to see a video of our best projects of 2014.)

Cut the Clutter

It's spring cleaning time! If your closet is in dire need of organization and you want to know what's new in closet systems, our partners at Eco-Nize Closets have some insight. Trending right now? Islands in master closets, Murphy beds, mudrooms, and bars in the garage! To read the blog, click on the Buzz tab on our website.

Considering a Rain Barrel for Spring Gardening?

The DC government offers incentives and rebates for rain barrels for homeowners. Installing a rain barrels reduces stormwater pollution and provides you with water for your garden or potted plants, cleaning tools or cars and saves you money on your water bill. <http://ddoe.dc.gov/service/riversmart-homes-rain-barrels>

Meet Our Team in Person

We'll be at two festivals this spring. Come say hello to our team!

Takoma Park Earth Day, Sunday, April 19, 10 am to 4 pm.
www.tkpkearthday.org

Kensington Day of the Book, Sunday, April 26, 11 am to 4 pm. Director of Architecture Paul Gaiser will be at the GIGS/FNDTN space at 3762 Howard Ave showing off our remodeling project books. www.dayofthebook.com

Enjoy Your Tunes--Wirelessly

Access songs at the touch of a button using a wireless music system with a phone/tablet application. Our master electrician explains how it works. To read the blog, click on the Buzz tab on our website.

Do you know someone who might benefit from our services? Pass along our newsletter!