

Dramatic Condo Renovation

The owners of this multi-level apartment in the top of a condominium building in the city wanted to renovate for two main reasons. First, they wanted a larger kitchen with new appliances and a central island with seating. Second, they wanted to create a home gym that included better access to an expanded deck for easier entertaining.

The kitchen renovation included a new layout to allow for more comfortable cooking and an island for additional seating and a better connection to the adjacent dining area. The remodel included new cabinetry, countertops, and appliances. Pulling the back wall of the kitchen forward allowed us to create a closet/pantry behind the kitchen with access from the kitchen and hall.

We filled in an open atrium/bridge above the kitchen to add this 300 square foot exercise room and added huge 16-foot double sliding doors to the expanded roof deck. Visit our website portfolio to see more before, during, and after photos.

Projects in Progress

These are photo-realistic renderings of two addition projects that are currently in the design phase. Our design team uses these types of images, as well as 3D visualization to help clients understand both exterior and interior changes to their home.

Progress of a Three-Story Addition

Follow along as we visually lead you through several months of construction work with jobsite photos of a three-story addition. You'll see the build from the foundation to the roof. Visit the buzz section of our website to read the blog and view 14 construction photos.

